

FAN COIL INDUSTRIES
EXCELLENCE IN AIR

Celebrating

25 years

With a big vision and a small factory with 2 employees, Fan Coil began in Ingleburn in 1983, manufacturing small packaged refrigeration units. By 1985, we had developed air handling units and grown to require new, larger premises.

Finally, in 1997, our extensive, purpose-built facility at Smeaton Grange in Narellan was opened to accommodate growing customer demand and growth in operations which has seen staff numbers rise to approximately 20.

From 36 basic air handling units in the first year, we now average 70 units each month, producing high tech large sandwich panel units fitted with control boxes, with additional features including variable speed drive.

In 25 years, Fan Coil has grown to meet changing needs and demands for larger, more efficient units. We couldn't have done this without our valued customers and suppliers. We thank you all for your past support and look forward to working with you in the future.
